Axis Troops Fight Among Selves in Russia; British Rout Axis in North Africa

Rumanian and Italian Troops Turn Against Germans, Russians Say in Report
Recalls 1812
Russians Say Rout Is Like Defeat of Napoleon

(By The Associated Press)
A great, perhaps decisive turning-point marked Europe's war on two fronts today as Britain announced officially that the Axis front in North Africa has been completely shattered and Russia declared that Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were fleeing in chaos.

A Soviet broadcast reported bitter hatred flaring among the Axis forces, asserting that Russian cavalry in the Donets basin had captured retreating German, Italian and Rumanian troops when they fell to fighting one another.

The broadcast said Rumanian soldiers joined with the Italians against the German.

Exactly one month to the day after Britain's desert armies struck back into Libya in their second North Africa offensive, British Middle East headquarters announced:

"Axis forces in eastern Cirenaica (Libya) are now in full retreat . . . the enemy front has everywhere been broken . . . yesterday our troops relentlessly pursued the enemy for a distance of nearly 30 miles . . ."

Thus, in staccato sentences, the British command foretold the apparent beginning of the end of the African campaign, while on the Russian front, the story of Axis disaster was even greater.

Premier Joseph Stalin was quoted as describing the ill-fated, fleeing Germans as "resembling the forces of Napoleon" in the bloody retreat from Moscow in 1812.

Khar'kov in Battle Zone
Havas (French news agency) dispatches said the German withdrawal in the Ukraine had brought the great industrial city of Khar'kov, the "Russian Pittsburgh," into the battle zone once more, and on the central front, Russian cavalrymen were reported to have chased German troops to within 19 miles of Orel, 200 miles south of Moscow.

Everywhere along the 1,200-mile front from Leningrad to the southernmost Ukraine, the Germans were declared to be falling back in a retreat unparalleled since Hitler sent his armies smashing through Belgium, Holland and France more than 18 months ago.

On the Moscow front, the British radio said the Germans had fled from Mzhaisk, a key center 57 miles west of the capital, and white-helmeted Soviet shock troops were reported imminently threatening the recapture of German-held Volokolamsk, 65 miles northwest of Moscow.

"We can't keep up with the Germans, they are running so fast," Red army soldiers were quoted as complaining.

Soviet dispatches said that the Nazis were offering only rear-guard resistances in their flight over the snow-packed battlefields, sacrificing infantry and mortar detachments in delaying actions, and that there was no sign yet of any attempt to make a stand on a new line.

Weight Is Shifted
In the north, around long-besieged Leningrad, the Finns reported that the Red army had shifted the weight of its offensive against them, with Soviet troops attacking along the whole eastern sector north of Lake Onega.

Advices reaching London said that the Russians had smashed the Finnish line between Lake Ladoga and Lake Onega and that the million defenders of Leningrad were joining in the assault on the Finns.

This clearly indicated that the Leningrad defense armies had been freed from German pressure in the south and west, and possibly meant that the Nazis were giving up the siege of the old Czarist capital.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters, silent on land operations, said merely that Nazi aerial assaults had inflicted heavy losses on Russian troops and tanks.

Meanwhile, armies of revolt were on the march against the German conquerors.

Kingston's First War Fatality

Robert Joseph Flannery, 19, who died of wounds received in action in the Pacific, is Kingston's first war fatality to be reported by the Navy Department. Word of his death was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Flannery, now of Poughkeepsie, on Tuesday.

The Flannery family removed from Kingston to Poughkeepsie about a year ago. The son, who was fatally wounded in action, is a graduate of St. Peter's parochial school, and of the Kingston High School, class of 1939. He was a Kingston resident when he enlisted at the navy recruiting office here.

While in high school the youth was active in school affairs and was a member of the banking council, the marshal system in the school, and of the Athletic Association.

In high school young Flannery was known among his fellow students by the nickname of "Red" Flannery. Word of his death came as a shock to his many Kingston friends.

Plane Carrying Officials Sought In Pacific Area

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—The War Department announced today an army plane carrying Major General Herbert A. Dargue, commander of the 1st Air Force, had been missing since December 12 on a transcontinental flight.

There were seven other passengers in the plane, five of them officers and two enlisted men.

Secretary of War Stimson said the ship was last reported near Palmdale, Calif., and it was believed that it had crashed or been forced down in that vicinity.

General Dargue is a veteran flying officer, and usually pilots his own plane.

Those listed as missing with him were:

Federal Deductions From State Income Tax Would Save Taxpayers Little

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 18 (AP)—Deduction of federal income taxes in determining net earnings for the state income tax would cause New York a "huge loss of revenue" and eventually bring additional levies, the state's legislative fiscal authority maintained today.

Reporting to legislators on the proposal, Assemblyman Abbot Low Moffat, chairman of the ways and means committee, asserted the actual saving to the state income tax payer is "much less than would first appear."

"If his state income tax is reduced," Moffat explained, "he will have a smaller deduction the following year on his federal return and his federal tax will be increased accordingly."

If adopted by the legislature at

Ration Cards to Be Given Out; New Cars Will Get Only 4 Tires, and No Spare

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The government prepared machinery today for its first wartime step into over-the-counter rationing, aimed at conserving crude rubber by barring sales of automobile tires for non-essential use.

Civilian rationing boards in every community—developed from state and local defense councils—will decide which individuals are entitled to ration cards. The system is to become effective January 4.

Acknowledging the possibility of more rationing in the future, Civilian Supply Director Leon Henderson said the rationing boards could become the framework for controlling the distribution of other civilian articles.

Henderson said warfare in the Pacific, cutting off rubber im-

County Housing Chairmen Meet; 4 Towns Are Absent

Evacuation Arrangements Are Discussed to Take Care of Exodus From New York City

All but four of the towns of Ulster county were represented at the meeting held at the court house Wednesday night of housing chairmen of the towns, recently named under the Ulster County Defense Committee setup. The roll call showed that chairmen from Hardenbergh, Olive, Rosendale and Wawarsing were not present.

Albert Cashdollar of Woodstock, who heads the county committee, spoke briefly. He said that he had then returned from Albany and at the conference there it had been emphasized that every person who had been named to a position in the defense work, from the chairman down to the lowest subordinate, must do his job. "If someone on your committee is not doing his job, get him out and get someone else," Mr. Cashdollar said. He testified to the cooperation that had been shown thus far in Ulster county.

Albert Kurdt, chairman of the food and shelter division of the County Defense Committee, presided at the meeting. After calling on Mr. Cashdollar, he introduced W. D. Bryant, associate economist of the New York state division of housing, who discussed at length the plans sponsored by the State Council of Defense and which had been prepared by the State Division of Housing.

Possibility Is Real
Mr. Bryant, saying that the meeting Wednesday night was chiefly interested in making plans for caring for evacuees in case air raids on New York city made it necessary to move portions of the population to safer sections, held that the possibility of raid was a very real—"there is no reason to believe that some of the seaboard cities won't get 'taken' raids, at least," he said. It is perfectly possible, he continued, for Germany to get into locations in South America, from which bombing may be carried on. He called attention to the fact that, as has been generally understood, Germany had prepared plans for carrying out evacuation should it prove necessary, years before the outbreak of the war. Mr. Bryant even went so far as to suggest that, following procedure against London, Christmas might be selected as the day for a token bombing of New York city.

Plans for evacuation covered four classes of persons, Mr. Bryant told the meeting. They are: School children, children of preschool age (who must be accompanied by a parent or guardian); expectant mothers; the aged, infirm, blind or crippled persons.

There are three problems comprised in the set-up—outlining the area to be evacuated and making a survey; a survey of the reception area and making arrangements for caring for evacuees; the transportation of evacuees from one area to another.

Voluntary evacuation, which will be the first thought on the part of a large number of people who own cars, and who naturally will start a rush to get out of the city at the first bombing, will not be permitted. Mr. Bryant referred to the immense traffic jam that

Elections Committee Votes 13 to 3 to Deny Seat to North Dakotan

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—Chairman Hatch (D., N. M.) announced today the Senate elections committee voted 13 to 3 in favor of a resolution recommending that Senator Langer (R., N. D.) be denied a seat in the Senate.

The action climaxed a year's consideration of charges involving moral turpitude which grew out of Langer's action as an attorney and former governor of North Dakota.

Langer has been serving in his post since last January 3, pending final outcome of the proceedings. The Senate membership must finally decide whether he shall be unseated.

Hatch said the committee's report would be made to the Senate as soon as possible but declared it was his understanding the case would not be taken up by the Senate until after the holiday season.

Appointed by Hatch
Senators Lucas (D., Ill.), chairman of the sub-committee investigations, and Senator Austin (R., Va.) were appointed by Hatch to prepare the report for the committee and to take charge of the matter in the Senate.

Voting for Langer were Senators Connally (D., Tex.), Murdock (D., Utah) and Smith (D., S. C.). Senator Nye (R., N. D.) disqualified himself.

Voting to deny him a seat were Senators Hatch, George (D., Ga.), Green (D., R. I.), Mead (D., N. Y.), Lucas (D., Ill.), Stewart (D., Tenn.), Chandler (D., Ky.), Tunnell (D., Del.), Kilgore (D., W. Va.), Austin (R., Va.), Bridges (R., N. H.), Wiley (R., Wis.), Butler (R., Neb.).

Naval Secretary Knox announced in Washington. Lieut. General Delos C. Emmons (center) of the air combat force has arrived in Honolulu with instructions to assume command of the Hawaiian department, War Secretary Stimson announced in Washington. Gen. Emmons will relieve Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short. General C. L. Tinker (right) of the Air Corps, is on his way to Hawaii to take command of the air forces, relieving Major General Frederick L. Martin, it was announced by the War Department in Washington.

Pip-Pip, Says Siren; LaGuardia Disgusted

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—"Did you hear anything?" "No."

"Neither did I. I guess we'll have to try something else."

This illuminating conversation took place between Mayor F. H. LaGuardia and city hall newsmen yesterday afternoon, and all New York is still repeating it.

What everybody was supposed to hear was the BIG NOISE—the much-heralded super-siren designed to replace inadequate air-raid alarms previously tested.

What almost everybody heard was nothing.

Oh, a few listeners standing several blocks away from the huge fog-horn-type siren atop the Consolidated Edison Company's East Side plant heard a cheep-cheep and a couple of pips, but for the most part a vast silence—outside of the usual city noises—prevailed.

Emmons and Tinker Replace Army Heads in Hawaii by Order of Stimson

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The United States entrusted supreme command of its Pacific fleet today to Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, one of the highest officers in the navy's top councils.

Nimitz, a forceful Texan and proud of it, was ordered to sea from his post as chief of the Bureau of Navigation, where he was rated in service circles as second only to Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations.

By reputation a man able and sure in action, Nimitz succeeds Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, who with two other top-ranking officers of the Hawaiian area was relieved of command, pending the outcome of the investigation which President Roosevelt ordered on the Pearl Harbor sneak attack.

The navy and war departments acted simultaneously last night in removing the officers whose responsibility for the lack of alert preparedness will be subject to examination by the President's investigating board.

Kimmel was the only navy man affected. The army relieved Lieutenant General Walter C. Short of command of the Hawaiian military department, and Major General Frederick L. Martin of command of the air forces in Hawaii.

Emmons in Honolulu
Lieutenant General Delos C. Emmons of the air combat force already has reached Honolulu and replaced Short. General C. L. Tinker, of the air corps, is en route to take over the air command.

The appointment of Emmons marks the second time the army has given the top command of a vital important military department to an air force man.

The first instance was when Lieutenant General Frank M. Andrews was put in charge of the Caribbean area defenses.

Secretary of War Stimson said the task of the new Hawaiian commanders was "to expedite the reorganization of the air defenses in the islands" and he concurred

U. S. to Become Tough on Husbands Whose Wives Are Self-Supporting

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The government will become harder-boiled about drafting husbands whose wives are self-supporting, the Senate was told today, as military leaders made known their view that this country must have an army much larger than 4,000,000 men.

"Four million men isn't an army today," Brig.-Gen. Wade H. Haislip, assistant chief of staff for personnel, declared to the Senate military committee. The army will be expanded as rapidly as equipment can be obtained, he said, "without any set number in view."

A system of allowances for the families of married men inducted into service was advocated by Brig.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—Secretary Stimson announced today the War Department was planning to expand the army to the greatest strength needed and would depend for the increase entirely on the Selective Service system.

All voluntary enlistments are to be halted as soon as "the present rush subsides," Stimson told a press conference.

An immediate increase of more than 150,000 men already has been recommended in a bill which Stimson said was on President Roosevelt's desk.

Stimson also announced: All reserve officers not yet called to active duty have been ordered to take physical examinations, but he said this step did

British Outlook Darker
In the Far East, Britain's struggle to halt the Japanese drive toward Singapore took a darkening turn as British and Indian troops were acknowledged to have withdrawn below the southern border of Kedah, apparently yielding the 115-mile-long Malayan peninsula state to the Japanese.

Kedah state lies opposite Penang Island, and London quarters said the withdrawal from Kedah meant that Penang—second only to Singapore in importance throughout Malaya—was "gone." The island is about 65 miles south of the Thailand frontier, jumping-off spot of the Japanese invasion.

Japs Make Big Claims For Attack

U. S. Forces in Pacific Set Out to Avenge Pearl Harbor Treachery, Under New Chiefs

Threat Is Greater

Malayan Forces Retreat and Give Japanese Big Area

(By The Associated Press)

Filipino jungle fighters were officially credited with a slashing victory over Japanese troops in the 12-day-old battle of Luzon Island today as U. S. fighting forces in the mid-Pacific set out under fresh commanders to avenge Japan's treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor.

Army, fleet and air chiefs in Hawaii were changed.

In Tokyo, the Japanese naval command admitted that five "special type" Japanese submarines—apparently 41-foot, two man mid-gets—failed to return from the December 7 attack on the U. S. naval base at Honolulu.

The Japanese claimed, however, that aerial observation showed five U. S. battleships, two heavy cruisers and an oil tanker had been sunk in the assault on Hawaii, and that 450 American planes had been destroyed on the ground and 14 others shot down in air duels. These claims appeared fanciful in the light of official U. S. reports.

Three "enemy" submarines were listed by Tokyo as having been sunk in the Pacific.

The Japanese also acknowledged the loss of 29 planes in the Hawaiian attack and said that a U. S. aircraft carrier previously reported sunk "now is believed to have escaped to a certain port."

A bulletin from Manila headquarters of Lieut.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Filipino troops clashed with Japanese invaders in the Vigan area, 200 miles northwest of Manila, Monday and threw them back many miles before darkness halted the fighting.

Army headquarters also announced that the entire Philippine army is being inducted into the United States army of the Far East "in order to amalgamate all defense forces and effectuate the maximum cohesion and coordination."

A Manila dispatch timed 4:40 p. m. Thursday, Manila time (2:40 a. m. E.S.T.) said Japanese aerial squadrons had renewed raids on Nichols and Zabala fields but had inflicted little damage.

Earlier, an army communique said the situation in the Philippine theatre "remains unchanged"—indicating that the Japanese invaders were making little or no progress in drives from widely separated beachheads in the north, west and south.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters, however, asserted that Japanese troops operating from Apari, 250 miles north of Manila, had seized a U. S. army air base and were driving southward while another Japanese spearhead from Legaspi, 250 miles southeast of Manila, was thrusting north in a vast pincer movement against the Philippine capital.

The Tokyo high command claimed, furthermore, that the Philippines' air defenses had been virtually knocked out as a result of Japanese bombing attacks on flying fields.

Lions Club Hears District Attorney

Bill of Rights Is Subject of County Official

District Attorney N. LeVan Haver addressed the Lions Club Tuesday noon at its meeting held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. He spoke of the 150th anniversary of the Bill of Rights—the addition to the Constitution of the United States of the first 10 amendments which have guaranteed to the citizens of this country certain rights, including freedom of religion, press, speech and assembly, and the right to petition the government for redress of grievances.

The district attorney also cited several cases which have been before him during his term of office. One instance where he brought a person back to Ulster county almost 20 years after the crime was committed and that he felt that if he had not tried this man he would be remiss in his duties as a public servant.

He also spoke of a case he prosecuted in which the person convicted received a short sentence, but it was his opinion that long after this person is released from prison his punishment will continue in view of the fact that society will not trust him. He will not be hired except for the poorest kind of jobs, all because of his prison record, which he shall carry for all time.

Mr. Haver concluded by saying that he hoped his talk would help to clarify the minds of his audience when they may be prone to criticize our police and law enforcing officials.

The club passed a resolution to the effect that it was offering the full support of the club to the city and county governments during national emergency, and also urged all members to enroll for civilian defense volunteer service either at Kingston or the local town office.

The Rev. Maurice W. Vennu had as his guest his father, Walter Donnaruma, chairman of the program committee reported on securing a guest speaker for December 23 meeting of Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions Clubs, Harold S. Davis, who recently returned from the Burma Road.

John Edwards gave his monthly report of the blind committee of which he is chairman.

A committee of workers has been formed among the employees at the Hiltebrant shipyard at Connelly for the purpose of purchasing defense bonds and stamps. All of the workers on the yard have pledged themselves to make weekly purchases during the duration of the war.

It was said today that yesterday's drive resulted in approximately $550 worth of bonds and stamps being purchased, and each Wednesday the men will purchase additional stamps and bonds.

It was stated at the yard that the idea of purchasing stamps and bonds was originated by a group of the workers and a committee was named to work out the details of the plan now in effect.

HEALTH SITUATION HERE

With the war effort dependent upon the worker's ability to stay on the job for long hours under pressure, and upon the mental and physical ability of the soldier to carry out his duties, the national health situation has come to the fore. Adequate sanitation, feeding, housing, medical care and hospitalization are considered vital to our all-out effort.

In certain sections of the United States there is an acute shortage of physicians, according to a report of the American Medical Association. However, no such deficiency exists in Kingston at present, the figures reveal. The local situation may be changed shortly when more physicians are called for war service.

Kingston has a total of 57 medical doctors at present, about one for every 5,000 residents. This compares favorably with the situation throughout the country, where there are 175,382 physicians, or approximately one for every 750 people. New York State, exclusive of the City of New York, has one doctor for every 643 inhabitants.

The hospital and sanitarium facilities in this city are also better than average with a bed available for every 101 persons in the city as against one bed for every 241 in the nation and one per 178 in upstate New York. This is exclusive of Federal and State institutions.

St. Liberata Benevolent Association of East Kingston, comprised of members, many of whom are Americans of Italian descent, buys $1,000 worth of United States Defense Bonds. Other local organizations have also purchased defense bonds and a great many more will undoubtedly follow the example of the Italian society.

FEELINGS OF A RECRUIT

"Well, how does it feel to be a soldier?" we asked a young friend recently drafted. He thought it over a few moments, then replied:

"It's a little like going swimming on a chilly day when the water's awful cold and there's a cold wind blowing. You step in up to the ankles and shrink back. Then you take a brace and wade in a little farther and stand there, and your feet are like ice, and you want to jump out and run home and get warm. But you don't."

"Then something queer happens to you. You notice that your feet don't feel so cold. And pretty soon they don't hurt any more at all. And you decide that if your feet can stand it, the rest of you can. So you wade right in, and splash yourself all over and jump up and down and swing your arms. And then the first thing you know, you're swimming around and enjoying it, and being sort of proud of yourself for being a he-man, although you wouldn't admit it to anybody."

GOOD NEIGHBORS

We have had a good deal of trouble with Mexico, off and on, during the last 30 years. But that's over now. It was pleasant and reassuring to learn of the big parade the other day in Mexico City, with 50,000 workers marching and singing and carrying placards saying "The future of Mexico is with the United States and Latin America."

There have been announcements, too, in most of the other southern republics, showing the same attitude. Even those who do not show so much enthusiasm as Mexico still wish us well and are preparing to cooperate with us in important ways. The forthcoming conference of representatives of all the Latin-American countries is expected to tighten the bonds already established.

So the labors of many years and the friendliness which has become the settled policy of this country toward Latin-America are bearing fruit. It looks now as if our whole Western Hemisphere will stand together for sanity and decency against the forces of barbarism.

WOMEN CAN "TAKE IT"

How do our American women feel about their men marching off to war, or to the training camps in preparation for war? As individuals they behave in various ways, but there is a sort of pattern.

Until lately there was a considerable lack of enthusiasm. Large numbers of women bitterly resented the drafting of their husbands and sons. That spirit came from not seeing the need of such action.

Now the attitude has changed. The danger obviously is much greater than it was before, because we are actually at war and there opens up a vista of warfare whose end we cannot see. But mothers and wives and daughters and sweethearts can see now the peril that threatens us all, and the need of defenders for us all—including them. Their hearts may still hold back, but their heads, at least, will acquiesce, as long as they know that the process of selection is fair.

When their men answer the call, they may wring their hands at first. Then they are proud.

SELF CONFIDENCE

A father consulted his physician about his boy sixteen years of age. He explained that although the boy was able to keep up with his companions in the school room, he had no confidence in himself or his ability, was shy with girls and even with boys. He just seemed to lack personality and would rather give way to anybody than assert his rights. Although an only child, the parents had not "overprotected" him as far as they knew.

The physician made a careful examination and found the boy well developed and past the puberty period. There was no physical reason for his shyness and lack of self confidence.

The boy had not been playing group games although the parents had not forbidden them.

The physician advised the boy to engage in group games even if he felt slow and awkward at first. His willingness to block or tackle an opponent, take a hard tackle, play any position ordered by the team captain, would give him courage and develop self confidence.

The boy had a tough time at first but learned to take his knocks and defeats like other youngsters. It was found that he made a reliable outfielder in baseball and a good forward pass receiver in football. He had acquired self confidence by meeting difficulties, chances of injury, ridicule of others. There was no place in a boy's life where he gets more "worked up" than when he is playing a game where others are depending on him. To measure up at such a time develops self confidence that becomes a lasting part of his life.

A short review of a book "Coming of Age" by Lloyd-Jones and Fedder, published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, says, in part: "In order to grow emotionally, an individual must feel that he is a worthwhile person, that he is needed somewhere by some one, that there is a place for him in his family group, in his social group, in a vocation and in the world. He must have the feeling of certainty that in all he does he can look himself and other people in the face."

Young people and those who have charge of their guidance should consider the help of group games, dramatics, and other activities in developing self-confidence.

Sad News Tells That New Dealers Are No More Simon Pure Than Brethren of Old Deal

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 18.—Sad news is coming out of the Senate committee investigating national defense contracts — sad because it demolishes the theory that the New Deal reformers are any different really than their brethren of the old deal.

For it now develops that two men who worked in the White House for President Roosevelt as his confidential emissaries to other bureaus and branches of the government left the government service and made lots of money by a means which senators on the committee describe as "selling influence and drag."

Thomas G. Corcoran who is credited with having influenced the appointment of many high officials of the government admitted on the stand to have made up-wards of $100,000 recently and Charles West who was liaison man between the President and Congress for a while testifies to the large fees he sought in connection with work for firms on the defense contract list.

There is no statute forbidding this sort of thing. Nor is it particularly novel. Many men who have left public office have gone into law or other business with their principal asset an intimate knowledge of government red tape and the friendly acquaintanceship of important persons in the government. Certainly there is no reason why either Mr. Corcoran or Mr. West shouldn't earn any fees that they can earn lawfully.

What is shocking, however, is that Mr. Corcoran has suddenly become so much in demand that he says he doesn't take a case for less than a $5,000 fee and that he has so much business offered him he cannot attend to it all. What is there about Mr. Corcoran that makes him so valuable? He declares it is his knowledge of the government and how to give advice about the government.

Maybe some businesses are assuming too much when they hire someone who knows the ropes in Washington. It has always been a matter of gossip that business men put too much faith in political pull as a means of influencing governmental action or awards.

If it should appear on investigation that some of these former New Dealers got special privileges from government officials whose appointments they originally influenced, the subject might become an interesting one for legislation.

But if this develops, the fault will lie rather in the President of the United States who chose as his advisers persons who, after leaving the government service, would not hesitate to ask favors from former associates in the government.

The real root of the difficulty, however, is not in what Mr. Corcoran did or in what those in the government service may have done for him. It is rather in the New Deal system which builds up discretionary power in administrative officials to the point where large sized fortunes may be made through decisions that can be twiddled or twiddledum.

Many a point in governmental decision can be as readily decided one way or another. Thanks to the New Deal Supreme Court, the administrative tribunals are almost absolute in their power, and their decisions cannot even be reviewed in many instances. The Supreme Court has gradually narrowed the area of review so that administrative officials are virtual dictators in economic affairs. Such a situation invariably introduces the lawyer with pull and the politician with drag.

Tommy Corcoran was the man who helped write the public utility holding company law. That's the law which has caused millions of dollars of losses to investors through an arbitrary dissolution of holding company properties.

Mr. Corcoran was a technician who was able to influence the President and the Congress. He was heralded far and wide as a real reformer. At the same time the New Deal was held up as a paragon of disinterestedness. New Dealers were reputed to be influenced primarily by the "service motive," and there was plenty said by New Dealers in condemnation of the "profit motive."

It turns out, however, that some of these New Dealers aren't a bit different from the so-called "wicked Republicans" of yesterday. It is a blow at the halo of idealism which has surrounded the New Deal, for it means that the almighty dollar is still the most powerful motive in the minds of even reformers. There's nothing wrong with selling one's talents—even advice about the government—for coin of the realm. What's wrong is pretending to be holier than the rest of the community which has been successful and even thrifty under the capitalistic system. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Convert Waste of Citrus

Orchards Into Dry Feed
Florida is now using its tremendous crop of grapefruit and oranges to produce milk, butter and other dairy products. It has been discovered that the pulp of citrus fruits can be dried and ground up to make a nutritious and valuable food for milk cows and beef cattle.

Florida rates next to Texas as a cattle-raising section. Around Kissimmee and Arcadia over 1,000,000 head of cattle roam wide and fertile ranges.

By actual test, it was reported by scientists P. T. Dix Arnold, Dr. R. B. Becker and Dr. W. M. Neal of the Florida State Agricultural station at Gainesville, the dried citrus pulp is just as high in nutritive value as dried beet pulp which has been widely used as a cattle feed for many years in other sections of the country. They tested milk cows fed on the grapefruit and orange feed diet and found that their milk production held up both in quantity and quality.

More than 18,000 tons of dried citrus pulp was processed as a cattle feed last year by plants in central part of Florida. A dozen new processing plants have gone up this year and a new industry seems to be on its way.

★AMERICANA★ HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

By RAY PEACOCK
AP Feature Service Writer

The old place sure looks good again. If you squint through one eye, it's just like a Christmas card, with the snow and the old fence and everything. Nice to have the house full again, hear voices and footsteps upstairs. Gets kind of lonesome around here sometimes, with just the two of us.

Didn't use to be that way. A man's family used to live right around him. Automobiles done it, maybe. People kept going a little farther and farther from home, until first thing you knew they were a thousand miles away, out in California, maybe, or 'way up in Michigan somewhere.

I mind the time Bill got married. Girl from Georgia, she was. He met her in Los Angeles, and that's where they live. Only they don't call it Los Angeles. Just L. A. Their oldest girl is three, and here I'm seeing her for the first time.

And Luella, too. She went away to business college and married a fellow from Arkansas. Didn't ask us about it or say anything beforehand. Just up and married and came here on their honeymoon to tell us. Always on the go, then two. Lived in four states, and here I ain't moved but once and that only when we built this house new.

Ain't the kids having a grand time? Guess they never saw such snow, that stays and stays until spring and doesn't get black. Don't mind their noise a bit, either. Reminds me of when Bill and Luella and Katy and Ed were young. Katy's back, too, but then she always was so quiet you never knew she was around.

And Ed—well, I wasn't going to think about Ed, 'way off there in camp. And he the baby of the family. Was the baby, anyway. Got the letter just last week—Christmas furlough cancelled after he was all packed up. Tough on a lot of boys this Christmas. Their poor girls, too. Seems like the ones of us who are lucky had better make the most of this Christmas. May be the last one like we've known for a long, long time.

Straits of Magellan Assume New Importance in Two Seas As Adjunct to Panama Canal

(Jack B. Beardwood, who has made the trip through the Straits of Magellan, describes this Atlantic-Pacific route for Wide World and The Freeman.)

By JACK B. BEARDWOOD
Washington, Dec. 17 (Wide World)—With the United States at war in both the Atlantic and Pacific, attention is focused sharply on the twisting, desolate, rock-hemmed Straits of Magellan on the southern tip of South America.

Down where the western hemisphere tapers off like a cornucopia, then slithers away in a rugged archipelago to Cape Horn, the 362-mile long straits serpentine their way through a channel that varies from two to 20 miles in width.

If anything happened to the Panama Canal, the straits would become one of the world's vital sea arteries.

It took Magellan a month to negotiate the hazardous straits on his voyage around the world in 1520. He was guided at night by the fires of Indians who thought his ships were birds or animals that could be lured ashore by flames. From these bonfires, Tierra del Fuego (Land of Fire) largest island in the archipelago, got its name.

Today it takes modern ships 36 to 48 hours to pass through the tortuous straits. Along the passage, that sometimes takes ships within a stone's throw of land, lie the oxidizing hulls of vessels that erred briefly while running the channel.

The straits are not protected by coast artillery, although Argentina is reported ready to reconsider a previous objection to Chile's offer for cooperative effort.

Only one man has tried to fortify the straits. Sixty years after they were discovered, Pedro Sarmiento de Gamboa sought to protect them so Spain's enemies would be barred from entering the Pacific. Sarmiento didn't know about Cape Horn; its discovery ended the plan.

Few ships fight the swells and dangers of Cape Horn. Mariners prefer the straits because they are protected from storms that almost constantly buffet the continent's tip.

Near Magallanes, southernmost city in the world, located about midway in the straits, Chile has a small naval station. But Chile, in whose territory the straits lie, has a tiny navy.

However, 300 miles from Cape Virgenes and Cape Holy Ghost, the Atlantic entrance to the straits, lie the Falkland Islands, Great Britain's South Atlantic naval base. Argentina's major naval bases are 800 to 1,000 miles to the north, as are Chile's.

The treachery of the straits is indicated by the names of landmarks along the 362-mile route—Fatal Bay, Fury Island, Last Wreck Point, Desolation Harbor. The western half of the straits runs through deep narrow gorges where the granite walls, pockmarked with light blue glaciers that send thousands of cascades down the cliffs, sometimes rise almost vertically from what has been referred to as the salt water river. The eastern half is shallower and wider, skirted by the brown barren hills of Patagonia and the northern fringe of Tierra del Fuego.

A few hours west of Magallanes, ships pass Cape Froward, southernmost part of the American continent, the spot where the foot of the Andes range pokes its toe into the frigid waters. Cape Horn is 200 miles to the south.

Vessels from the Pacific enter the straits through Smith's channel, a dangerous stretch of water, then head southeast almost until they reach Magallanes. From there on, the straits, roughly, run northeast.

Although the voyage through the Straits of Magellan is one of the most scenic in the world, vessels often go either direction from Magallanes without passing a single ship. Often there is not a sign of life—just the stern, silent peaks and the rumble of cascades tumbling into the gorge.

GRANGE NEWS

Plattekill Grange

In spite of the stormy weather, about 50 Grangers and their families gathered at the Grange hall last Saturday night and enjoyed a turkey dinner previous to the meeting.

Ross Osterhoudt and a team from Stone Ridge installed the following officers for the ensuing year:
Master, George R. Sisti, overseer, Kenneth E. Cronk; lecturer, Mrs. Beulah Thompson; steward, Henry Barclay; chaplain, Mrs. William Nabor; assistant steward, Arthur Foster; secretary, Mrs. Burton Ward; gatekeeper, George Scott; Flora, Virginia Silberling; lady assistant steward, Patricia Alvarado; Ceres Pomona and treasurer were not present.

It was decided that the lecturer, Mrs. Beulah Thompson, and as many others as possible would attend the two-day sectional school at Newburgh, January 14 and 15. Worthy Master Sisti appointed the following committees for the coming year:

Flag bearer, Elmore Lozier; pianist, Mrs. Elmore Lozier; assistant pianist, Mrs. Myron Foster; flower committee, Mrs. Charles Everett, Mrs. Freston Paltridge, Mrs. F. E. Lozier and Anna Mack; service and hospitality committee, Mrs. Elmore Lozier, Mrs. Arthur Diener, Mrs. Myron Foster, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Charles Everett, Mrs. Jacques Beaumann, Mrs. Fred Woolsey, Mrs. Margarita Breitenberger; the committee for obtaining the tree and decorating the hall for the Christmas meeting December 27, is as follows: Marjorie Minard, Doris Breitenberger, Patricia Alvarado, Martin DePew, Susie Foster, Elizabeth Foster, Henry Barclay, Arthur Foster.

As late as December 9, 1940, the navy announced an objective of 800 students a month by July, 1942. It wanted a pool of 25,000 fliers by 1945.

As late as January, 1940, the army wanted enough pilots to man 5,500 airplanes, then the air corps goal.

Then the German march through the low countries began. President Roosevelt in a message to a joint session of the House and Senate suggested a production of 50,000 warplanes a year.

In the same month the President announced a program whereby 50,000 civilians would be given preliminary training in the year beginning July 1. Some of them, it was intended, would filter into the armed services for basic and advanced courses.

From that point on the goal has grown ever larger.
By October, 1940, the army wanted to commission 12,000 pilots a year. Last March that was boosted to 30,000 a year. In July it became 40,000.
Today the sky is the limit.
The navy has four huge schools in operation.
The army has upward of 70. In addition, dozens of fields are giving primary training to both potential army and navy pilots.
Those are the figures. The job itself is something else, the biggest task this country ever has set for itself in terms of trained man power for war. It takes almost six months to train an aviation cadet to feel at home in the air.
So far, one member of the Axis has the jump on us—Germany. By long-range planning the Nazis have created an unplumbed reserve of pilots for air warfare. As early as three years ago more than 100,000 young men were in training as fliers.
What the figure is now, nobody knows.
Less important as an enemy is Italy, where the talk has been big but the results meager.
Still unknown but evidently capable of striking a hard first blow is the manpower of the Japanese air force. The last available figure on training there was 1,000 pilots a year. That unquestionably is far below the actual output.
America probably will be producing military pilots at the rate of 50,000 a year by next spring.
American motion picture equipment now leads in popularity in Portugal.

JAPANESE PLANE OVER PEARL HARBOR

United States Has Begun Pilot Training Aimed at Eventual Mastery of Air Lanes

By DEVON FRANCIS

New York, Dec. 18 (Wide World)—The United States is launched on a pilot training project intended ultimately to give it mastery of the air.

The army air forces are calling for 20,000 men a month to qualify as aviation cadets. The last announced objective of the navy was an output of 5,000 pilots annually. That has been boosted.

Just 15 months ago the total military pilot power of this country was only 8,300 men—counting army, navy, and marine corps.

At more than 130 fields aviation cadets are learning to fly. At tactical fields, to which they are transferred when they win their wings, they are learning to use airplanes as weapons.

Let's look at this stupendous increase in the pilot training program as it is related by the calendar of events:

In 1936 the navy was turning out pilots at Pensacola, Fla., at the rate of 250 a year.

In 1937 the lone advanced training school run by the army air corps graduated its largest class, 184 men.

As late as December 9, 1940, the navy announced an objective of 800 students a month by July, 1942. It wanted a pool of 25,000 fliers by 1945.

As late as January, 1940, the army wanted enough pilots to man 5,500 airplanes, then the air corps goal.

Hitler Apparently Plans Some Trick To Divert Allies

Air Power in Pacific Takes No. 1 Importance as Yarnell Sees Victory via Plane Strength

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Wide World Analyst)

The Japs continue to trail in their race to beat time before Allied reinforcements can arrive to take a hand in the battle of the Pacific, nothing of a decisive nature having yet occurred in any of the several strategic zones where the Nipponese are attacking—and that is good news at this stage.

However, a little item from the distant Russian front today reminds us forcibly that Hitler undoubtedly is preparing to strike again in some other direction, and that his fresh blow will be calculated to divert as many Allied resources from the Far East as possible. An Associated Press correspondent after a three-day tour of the Moscow front reports that there have been no signs of the Nazi airforce. That is ominous.

Any Hitlerian offensive which will put an added strain on Allied air and naval forces will be plumb-duff for the Japs. This is especially true of the aerial arm, because the Oriental battle at the moment is turning on control of the air.

So important is this question of air control that a newspaper editor has asked this column to comment on it on the basis that "it does seem that the first phase of the war will be determined in the air." Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, former commander of the Asiatic fleet, goes even further and declares the United States will win the war of the Pacific through air control.

Air Power Is Vital

Certainly air power is a vital factor in the battles now raging about the Philippines, Singapore, Hongkong and lesser air bases. Air reinforcements or lack of them—especially fighter planes to fend off attacking bombers—may spell the difference between victory and defeat.

Probably the question most often in the public mind relates to our chances of bombing Japanese cities. Remember Pearl Harbor! Interest undoubtedly has been stimulated by the knowledge that the dropping of incendiaries on the flimsily built towns of the island empire would be likely to produce a holocaust.

That is one reason why Russia's attitude toward Japan at this juncture of the crisis is highly important. The Bolsheviks have a large air force at Vladivostok only about 600 miles away from Nippon.

I should say that right now our chief striking power must come from aircraft carriers. We have no bases near enough to the Japanese mainland to enable us to do much practical bombing, employing the long distances bombers commonly in use by America and Britain. These ships can fly some 3,000 miles without heavy load, but obviously their serviceable bombing radius is considerably less than half that distance because allowance must be made for adverse winds, maneuvering and the return trip home.

Outside Battle Radius

Now if you will glance at your Far Eastern maps you will see that our available bases are outside the battle radius of such machines, so far as concerns Japan proper. We could get to Formosa from Manila—and that would be exceedingly valuable, for Formosa is a strong base—or we could reach the Japs in Hainan or French Indo-China. Tokyo or the other great cities of Nippon are too far away.

Of course, you will remind me

One Way to Get Your Home Decorated Is to Let Father Do It

1. "It's all so simple to fix things up for Christmas. Decorations should be hand-made and homey. Women, temperamentally, are just too prim to do the job."

2. "The Christmas Wreath. Get a rope of non-wiltable evergreen. Then... where's that red ribbon? Leave things alone, Son! Yes, the white bells are pretty with that shiny stuff. But look for that ribbon."

3. "Here's the place for the wreath. Boyo! Now, how the h—did that happen? The wife had butter on her fingers when she handled that hammer. But everybody makes mistakes."

4. "Bells should be in a row like icicles or cathedral bells. Women have no imagination. Sure, the mess will get cleaned up. Go back to the kitchen, Madam. The old master is at work."

5. "Some centerpiece Uncle Pete wired from his Florida florist! That clump of moss is a slick idea for sticking flowers into. And the children's modeling clay is a help."

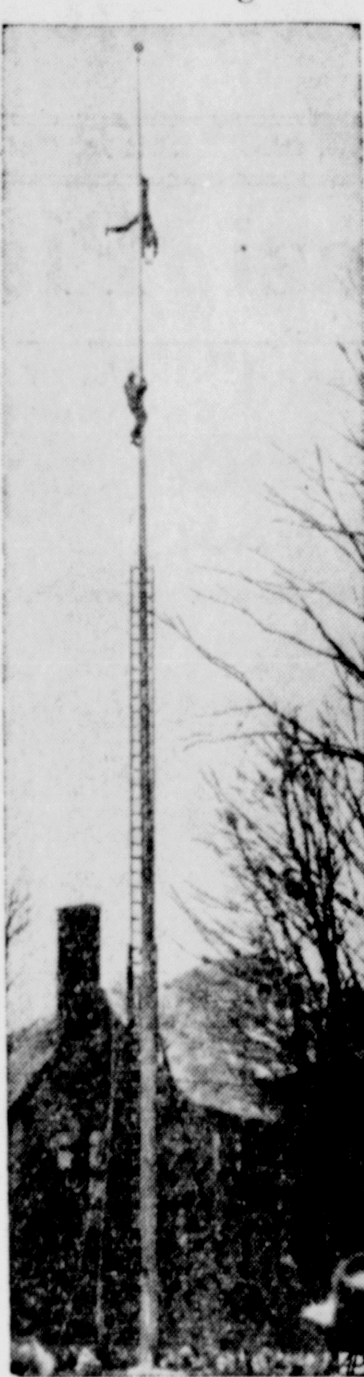

6. "Christmas candles a-glow. Come on everybody! We're lighting candles. (Children, don't talk about that broken pane.) A man certainly can make the old dump says 'Merry Christmas' if he does his own decorating."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Not a Hotel
Freehold, N. J.—Hereafter the Monmouth county court house doors will be locked at night—drunks have been found sleeping on the third floor.

Freeholder Edgar O. Murphy said the court street entrance had been left open so police could take prisoners to the county jail through a court house corridor. A night bell will be installed to summon the warden.

"Search for Art—"
Philadelphia—Police at the 14th District station blocked out their headquarters with heavy tar paper on the windows and cardboard screens on the inside to catch any shattered glass.

After surveying the handwork they started an informal search for a neighborhood character who has often come into custody.

He's an interior decorator and the cops want him to invent some gay murals for the screens.

The Army Gives In
Oklahoma City—Richard Simmons appeared at an army recruiting station to enlist.

Officers took one look and went into a huddle. They wired Eighth Corps area headquarters at San Antonio.

Texas officers passed the wire around and held a consultation. They wired Washington. Washington took the matter under advisement, then wired Oklahoma City: "Okay."

Six-foot, seven inch 240-pound

Private Simmons was in the army today—even if he is one inch taller than regulations permit.

Hyah Kitty! Hyah Kitty!
Alameda, Calif.—N. C. Hoxie spied his cat snooping around the Christmas tree. He let fly with a bath towel but—oops—it missed! The lighted tree crashed over and burst into flames from shorted wiring. The cat dashed from the room, squawling. The rug and curtains went up in smoke. Firemen saved the house.

All Out
Hay Springs, Neb.—When Harvey Benschulter, 23, a ranch employe, decided his country needed his help, he went the whole way. He sold his car, horse and other personal property for $500, invested the money in defense bonds and then set out for Denver to enlist in the cavalry.

Treadwell Heads Y.M.C.A. Trustees

Other Officers Named at Meeting of Trustees

The board of trustees of the Kingston Young Men's Christian Association unanimously elected Cornelius S. Treadwell to serve as president of the board of trustees at its meeting on Tuesday night. Mr. Treadwell is president of Everett & Treadwell Co. and is well known for his civic interest in the community. The trustees also elected William C. Kingman as vice-president and Ernest LeFevre treasurer.

The board of directors, whose meeting preceded that of the board of trustees, elected A. B. Shufeldt to the board of trustees. Mr. Shufeldt is also vice-president of the board of directors. Other trustees who will serve for the coming year include Clarence S. Rowland, James A. Guttridge and Joseph M. Fowler.

Ernest Ford, a member of the state committee of Y. M. C. A., attended the meetings and outlined to the directors and trustees the relationship existing between the local Y. M. C. A. and the national and state committees.

The British Government has guaranteed to purchase 14,500,000 bunches of bananas from Jamaica this year.

MENU TIPS From the Cookbooklets

HOT AND COLD SALADS AMONG VARIATIONS IN NEW BOOKLET

Most of us think of salads in terms of fresh, crisp colorful combinations of fruits or vegetables, and while these types are the most popular, hot salads should not be neglected. Certain meals are so much the better for a hot salad accompaniment and the newest Cookbooklet in the Kingston Daily Freeman's series of 20, suggests a number of these.

"500 Delicious Salads" brings you the most complete collection of salad recipes for every occasion that you've ever seen. There are vegetable combinations — fruit combinations — meat suggestions — fish salads — frozen and molded salads — holiday salads — cheese variations — and of course, a grand section on garnishes and dressings.

For an effective hot salad suggestion, try this one:

Hot or cold, Potato Salad and Frankfurters have become a classic Sunday supper dish. It's a time-saver and everybody loves this simple meal. Get your new Cookbooklet, "500 Delicious Salads" for variations of this and other combinations.

Hot Green Bean and Bacon Salad
2 pounds green beans
3 slices uncooked bacon, diced
1 onion, minced
1/2 cup vinegar
Dash pepper

Wash and string beans; cut into diagonal strips and cook in salted water until tender. Drain and keep hot. Fry bacon until crisp; add onion, stir for a minute and add vinegar, letting it boil up once. Pour over beans, add pepper and serve hot. Serves 6.

Tomatoes form an ideal base for salad fillings. For instance, chilled and hollowed tomatoes may be served with cottage or cream wedges. Serves 8.

The first seven books in The Freeman's series of 20 are now available. They are: 1-500 Snacks; 2-500 Delicious Dishes from Leftovers; 3-250 Classic Cake Recipes; 4-250 Ways to Prepare Poultry and Game Birds; 5-250 Superb Pies and Pastries; 6-250 Delicious Soups; 7-500 Delicious Salads.

Each booklet is available with one coupon from page 2 of The Freeman and 13c at any outlet mentioned therein. To order by mail, send one coupon and 13c (13c for book plus 3c for postage) to Cookbooklet Department, Kingston Daily Freeman, Freeman Square, Kingston, N. Y.

Buy Defense Stamps
Self-interest as well as patriotism urges everybody to buy defense savings stamps and bonds. Our country needs the money now. Save and invest for victory and liberty. Buy now.

WHO WANTS TO KNOW?

When people ask "How are you?" Its just a salutation. And common sense should bar you from lengthy explanation. Its not the kind of query requesting diagnosis. Of each and every dreary reaction and neurosis. It doesn't mean devising an answer to the question. In which you're itemizing what's wrong with your digestion. If operations scar you don't analyze and spell 'em. And when folks ask "How are you?" for heaven's sake don't tell 'em!

A smart man is the one who hasn't let a woman pin anything on him since he was a baby.

The plutocratic looking man, in a furlined overcoat, and sporting a big cigar, walked his lordly way down the street. "He" said the local scribe, "is one of the few men who have got rich from writing poetry. And he wrote for only six months."

"What!" said the poet. How the devil did he do that? He wrote love sonnets to a rich and ancient widow.

It isn't so hard to live on a small salary if you don't spend too much trying to keep it a secret.

Even though we can't have all we want, we ought to be thankful we don't get all we deserve.

Foibles of custom! If underwear looked like beach-wear you could walk down the street in it.

A would-be chicken facier had some difficulty with her flock and wrote the Department of Agriculture:

"Something is wrong with my chickens. Every morning when I come out I find several lying on the ground cold and stiff, their feet in the air. Can you tell me what is the matter?"

Soon she received the following letter from the Department:

"Dear Madam. Your chickens are dead."

Most of the young women use an ungodly amount of make-up; but then maybe they know their own faces.

Mandy—Is you de judge ob reprobrates?

Judge—Well, Madam. I am the probate judge, if that is what you mean.

Mandy—Yassah, dat's it. Ah 'spects. Well, Mistuh Judge. It's like dis—mah husband had done died detested, and lef' me with seven little infidels, and Ah wants to be appointed as de executioner.

If you can't take it, don't dish it out.

"Why not take a week's vacation from worrying?" asks a psychologist. We'd be glad to, if only we could find something not to worry about.

Recession is that period when you tighten your belt. A depression is the period when you have no belt to tighten. When you have no pants to hold up, boy, that is a panic.

"Want any help, chum?" shouted a passerby to a driver who was trying to get a pair of mules through a gate.

"No, I guess not" was the sad reply. "But I'd like to know how Noah got two of these blinkin' blighners into the Ark!"

The Moss Feautre Syndicate, Greensboro, N. C.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Dec. 13 — Mrs. Claudia Parker returned to her home here, after spending several days in New York, where she visited Carla Knauer.

Arrangements for the community tree exercises on the village green have been about completed.

The exercises will be held on Christmas eve and as usual there will be distribution of oranges, candy, etc. There will be a Santa Claus. The Scripture will be read by the Rev. Harvey L. Todd, pastor of the Reformed Church, and the singing will be under the direction of Matthew Chambers, who has had a great deal of experience in conducting singing on such occasions. The tree will be illuminated.

Charles Gradwell returned to his home on Thursday after spending several days in New York.

Henry Houst is recovering from an injured ankle, as the result of an accident in his shop. Dr. Cohn is in attendance.

Rehearsals are under way for the pageant to be held in connection with the Christmas tree at the Methodist Church Friday, December 19. The first rehearsal was held on Friday evening.

The returns for the Craftsman's show at the gallery this year are about $750. This amount is something more than $100 over last season. There are a number of orders yet to be filled.

The Post Office here reports that since the declaration of war with Japan, the sale of defense stamps has increased 75 per cent.

Warren Hutt and Albert Cashdollar, supervisor of Woodstock, attended a meeting of the U. S. Defense Council at the supervisors' rooms at the court house on Friday evening.

Charles Mora Siegal will return to his home in New York on Saturday.

The civilian defense organization of Woodstock will hold a meeting at 8 p. m. The heads of all organizations throughout the town are asked to attend. Officials of all church bodies, the Red Cross, the firemen, the American Legion and all organizations here are requested to have representatives present and learn the requirements of the hour. THE PHONE BOOTH MURDER

by Phoebe Atwood Taylor

Chapter 26
No Motive

THIS case, thought Asey, is nothing but possibilities. If Ann Joyce had been pretending to be Miss Olive all day, she ought to have had Miss Olive's car, and the car should be around, now. Perhaps, Asey thought, it might have been parked out behind the Inn somewhere when he and Jennie came. He hadn't seen any trace of it when he chased the prowler who knocked over the clams, but that didn't mean that the car couldn't have been there. And still might be. If the fog cleared, or if Miss Olive didn't return by daylight, Hanson's men would have to scour around.

But if Ann Joyce had Miss Olive's car, then where was Miss Olive now, and where had she been all day? And where was she keeping herself?

And why?

Asey sat up straight on the bench.

Offhand, he never remembered a case where there was so little apparent reason to do away with the two people most involved.

And if there was a dearth of motives, Asey thought, there was a positive desert of clues. No shreds of tweed, no cigarette butts smeared with lipstick, no quaint cameo pins, no gods of chewing gum, or anything else. There weren't even any obviously false clues that you could dangle in anyone's face and demand explanations for.

That, at least, was the way it seemed.

But, of course, there was a motive, Asey told himself. There always was. There had to be.

"What I want," he murmured aloud, "is a few roots!"

He had thought, once that evening, that he had actually landed on a root, until Freddy mentioned that cleaning woman and nipped the root in mid-air.

It was such a simple, logical, sensible root that it appealed to Asey, and neither Cummings nor Hanson nor anyone else had given it a thought. At least, they hadn't mentioned it.

They had all simply taken it for granted that Ann Joyce must have been killed inside that telephone booth.

It never seemed to have occurred to any of them that if it had been so easy for Mrs. Doane to have moved that body from the booth to the porch, it must have been just as easy for someone else to have placed the body there in the first place!

The back door of the booth, that led into the narrow hall, could just as well have been used for an entrance as it had been used by Mrs. Doane for an exit.

While Freddy and Rankin and Lady Boop and everyone else moved around in the living room, the body could have been inserted in the booth from the other side, without any of them being a whit the wiser.

But the presence of the cleaning woman in the dining room knocked all that conjectured pantomime into a couple of cocked hats.

It did even more. It also put an abrupt stop to another thought Asey had been toying with, that Ann Joyce might just possibly have been shot upstairs in the Inn and brought down in one of the two elevators Rankin had mentioned. What with so many people wandering around the living room, the elevator in the alcove couldn't under any circumstances have been used.

Quiet Exit

Asey knocked out his pipe. The possibility that Alfred himself might have carried a body into the Inn was, on the one hand, too absurd to consider seriously, and, on the other hand, not quite absurd enough to ignore entirely.

Alfred was Alfred, possessed, as Washy put it, a broad beam. From a distance, any addition to Alfred's broad beam would not be as obvious as it might be in the case of a narrower person. In the dusk of evening, Alfred with a body might not appear visibly encumbered to Washy, in the woods.

Asey couldn't bring himself to consider Lady Boop and Alfred as a pair of murderers, but it might not do any harm to seek out Washy and have a talk with him about Alfred's part in the case.

Even though Lady Boop was as rich as Croesus, there had been something fishy in her giving Alfred a cool thousand dollars in cash to keep in his wallet for little eventualities like dead goats.

Alfred, though Asey hadn't considered this particular angle of the situation before, he couldn't stake his oath that the goat was the only thing Alfred had buried. And, after all, Miss Olive was still missing.

"If that goat was a red herring," Asey murmured to himself, "I'm going to look one plumb dumb fool!"

He strode over toward the kitchen ell.

The lights went out before he got there, and as he peered around the corner, Washy, in a belted Mackinaw and with his little blue knitted cap on his head, sidled out the kitchen door and started down the path.

He didn't exactly run, but he walked so rapidly on tiptoe that the effect was the same, and he held his head down and his shoulders crouched a little, as if he were trying to make himself small.

With a puzzled look on his face, Asey watched for a moment, and then quietly set off down the path after him.

He heard a crackling sound as Washy left the path and skirted the brush pile, and then the soft crunching of his sneakers as he hurried along down another gravel path.

Keeping well behind him, Asey followed him around a small pond, through a pine woods, and down a little sloping hill to the bay shore.

Washy paused for a moment at the edge of the beach grass and then continued more slowly toward the gaunt outlines of a bathhouse that loomed out of the fog.

Waves lapped on the shore beyond, and a bell buoy rang hollowly from Quisset Harbor, and then Asey heard the rattle of keys and the click of a padlock.

Washy swung open the bathhouse door, emerged a moment later with a shovel, and then began to dig industriously in the sand.

After a few moments he stopped, jabbed his shovel upright into the sand, and took something from the pocket of his Mackinaw.

"The Papers"

Asey strolled forward.

His hands were in the pockets of his coat, and he almost sauntered up to Washy, but he was ready to meet anything from a frontal attack with the shovel to what used to be Washy's piece de resistance, a sort of elementary flying tackle.

"By gorry, it's you, Asey!" Washy said in a voice of pleased relief. "I must say I'm glad I been tryin' to get hold of you all evenin' long to see what you thought was best for me to do about these cussed things. Here. You take 'em."

He held out a flat fifty cigarette tin.

Asey took it with caution. Washy was also a past master of the extended hand and the hearty grip. And when you came to and picked yourself up, you found your arm was broken.

"What's this, Washy?"

"It's them cussed papers. Honest Asey, I been like to go crazy with them cussed cops stickin' their cussed noses into everything, for fear they'd find 'em an' start askin' my wife—say, you met my wife now, ain't you?"

"Uh-huh."

"Then you know, if they find these papers an' ask her about 'em, I'm a goner! I kept thinkin' I'd be all right as soon as Miss Olive come back. But with her away, no one wouldn't ever believe me. Anyhow, now you got 'em," he hooked his arm chummily in Asey's, "an' everything's okay. My, my, it's good to get them cussed things off my mind. I can tell you. Come on back up to the house, Asey, an' let's us talk about the old days—"

"Wait up," Asey disengaged himself warily. He still didn't trust Washy even in this mood of benign good humor. "What's all this about papers?"

"Oh, they're in the box. Come on out of this damp an' fog an'—"

"Hold on, Washy! Come back here! What are these papers, an' what's the idea of buryin' 'em?"

"I told you!" Washy said impatiently. "I don't want them cussed cops to take 'em to my wife an' ask her any questions about 'em, because then I'd be a goner! So I thought I'd just bury 'em out of the way till Miss Olive come back, because then people'd believe me—say, Asey, you don't think nothin' happened to her, do you?"

"I hope not. Washy, stop dancin' around, an' tell me what these papers are!"

"They're just the notes," Washy took Asey's arm again. "She wouldn't never take 'em, you see. She said she trusted me. But I said, 'Miss Olive, with a sum of money like that, you got to have a note.' I told her that ten years ago. So I makes out a note. N'en as I paid her back, I made out other notes. She gives me a receipt every time I pay her back. The receipts is in that box, too."

"Do I understand," Asey was honestly bewildered, "that you owe her money?"

"Only two thousand now," Washy said with pride. "I paid back the other five."

"Washy," Asey said, "come over here an' sit down on these bathhouse steps an' let me get this straightened out. Miss Olive once told you seven thousand dollars? What for?" Asey asked.

Washy understood his question. "You see, ten years ago the bank foreclosed. Kind of hard, times was then. An' the cussedest part was, Asey, I had the money to pay 'em with, only it was all tied up in this schooner. Ever know Sim Smith?"

Burma Road to Be Topic of Speaker When Clubs Meet

The Lions Club of Kingston has just completed final arrangements with Harold S. Davis, president of the Consolidated Freight Line of Hartford, Conn., who will be the guest speaker, because of their wide experience in trucking and road transport to make a survey of the Burma Road to plan for a more efficient passage of trucks and equipment over this route—China's life-line.

They flew to Burma in July, 1941 and spent 18 grueling days studying the turmoil of the Burma Road. These men often surmounting the inefficiency made many sweeping recommendations for improvement and they personally handed this to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek for his consideration.

This report pointed out the lack of proper mechanics in many cases and too many in others.

During the time Mr. Davis and his associates were in Chungking the Japanese bombed the city daily.

Thirty American mechanics are now on their way to China to man six dispatching and service stations along the road. Expert freight handlers from America's largest trucking companies will join them shortly. These 30 mechanics were last heard from at Manila when war broke out between the United States and Japan.

Mr. Davis, in addition to Daniel Arnshteyn, who runs a fleet of 7,000 taxi cabs in New York and Marco Hellman, were selected by Harry Hopkins because of their wide experience in trucking and road transport to make a survey of the Burma Road to plan for a more efficient passage of trucks and equipment over this route—China's life-line.

Ominous Sign On Russian Front

that the newspapers long have been discussing bombers which are said to do much more than 3,000 miles. Also it's true that emergencies like the present frequently produce quick improvements. However, for the purposes of this article we will stick to the bombers now in general use. If we have anything else in mind for the Japs they will hear of it soon enough—and they may have cause for the concern they have been showing about possible air raids.

The Japanese got at Pearl Harbor from aircraft carriers which crossed the Pacific. On the supposition that what a Jap can do a Yankee can do, it would scarcely be surprising to see Tokyo or Osaka or some other enemy city bombed from airplane carriers almost any time now.

So much for that. While you and I have been bombing Tokyo mentally, news bulletins have come over my printer machine to report further Allied successes in the western theatre of war. The British claim that the Axis forces in eastern Libya are in full retreat, and the Russians are said to be continuing to smash back disorganized German troops in the Moscow sector.

Both these operations mean a tremendous strengthening of the general Allied position in the European war.

not from they necessarily would be called out immediately. After January 1 all graduates of officers candidate schools will be ordered to duty immediately. Previously those desiring have been awarded certificates of capacity and permitted to return to their former enlisted ranks. Commanders of the four air force interceptor commands in the United States have been charged with ordering blackouts, air raid alarms, all clear signals and silencing radio signals.

Would Prevent Alarms

Stimson said the purposes were to prevent false alarms and unnecessary interference with production. Both difficulties, he said, had been in evidence in California since the war came. The order became effective December 9. Headquarters of the interceptor commands are: First, Mitchel Field, Long Island; second, Fort Lawton, near Seattle, Wash.; third, Drew Field, near Tampa, Fla.; and fourth, at Riverside, Calif.

The War Department is now in the process of "completing details of a general and indeterminate increase" in the army, the war secretary said.

"We are proceeding on the basis of the utmost speed consistent with efficiency," he went on. "The ultimate strength of the land forces will be determined in the light of the strategic situation as it develops."

"We are trying to set up machinery by which the army can be increased steadily but without fixing limits which might have to be changed."

"We are trying to do it with the least disturbance to industry and the entire economic set up. In the light of this purpose the age limits in the new Selective Service legislation now before Congress is important. That is why we ask that the minimum age limit be set at 19."

"All war is a young man's game," the secretary added. Administration leaders were confidently predicting Senate approval of the legislation making men of 19 and 20 liable for military service, though the House had refused to lower the induction age from 21.

Communiques

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The text of this morning's war department's communiques:

"The war department requests to announce that an army airplane enroute from Phoenix, Arizona, to Hamilton Field, California, with several army officers, including Major General Herbert A. Dargue, air corps, as passengers, has been missing since 7:55 p. m., December 12, 1941. The plane was last reported near Palmdale, California. It is believed that it may have crashed or been forced down in the mountains in that vicinity. When the plane failed to arrive at its destination on schedule, a search was instituted, which is still continuing.

"Philippine theatre: There was no apparent enemy activity during Wednesday, December 17. There is nothing to report from other areas."

To Give Play

Kidney Beans Make Delicious, Unusual Main Dish

Oven-baked Red Kidney Beans are the Stars in This Delicious Main Dish—With Sour Cream and Chili Powder to Show Them Off at Their Best.

By CAROL BRUECK
Heinz Home Institute

ADDING cream to baked beans is a very unusual procedure—hence that unusual dish homemakers are always looking for is the result when you prepare Creamy Kidney Beans by the following recipe. But not only is this dish different—it's delicious. Subtle in flavor and rich in consistency, such a combination could well claim the title of gourmet's delight.

Serve these Creamy Kidney Beans as the main dish when you want something special as well as when you want to prepare a main dish in a hurry. If you are looking on the practical side, too, consider the fact that it is substantial and an excellent source of such important minerals as iron, calcium and phosphorus—and supplies vitamin A besides. Thus with Creamy Kidney Beans as your main dish, you are giving your family a nutritious meal at small expense. Serve it with corn bread and a salad combining canned peach halves with currant jelly.

Creamy Kidney Beans: Fry ¼ lb. bacon cut in ½-inch pieces and 1 tsp. minced onion together until partially cooked. Drain off excess fat, then add 1 medium (17-oz.) can oven-baked red kidney beans. Mix 1 cup thick sour cream and 1 tsp. chili powder, then combine with bean mixture. Heat just to simmering point. Serve hot. Serves 6.

Tooff Off Friday

General Dargue, whose headquarters are at Mitchel Field, Long Island, took off from Phoenix, Ariz., at 5:35 p. m., Friday, December 12, for Hamilton Field, Calif.

Stimson said the 55-year-old general was on an inspection flight. The route was by way of Blythe, Calif., and the ship was checked there about 6:50 p. m. the same evening. Dargue requested permission to change his flight plan to permit him to fly by way of Palmdale.

The war department said the plane had passed safely over the rugged San Bernardino and San Jacinto mountains, between Blythe and Palmdale, and apparently was flying northward up the San Joaquin valley to the San Francisco area.

Search for the plane is proceeding in the area between Palmdale and Hamilton Field. General Dargue was flying a 21-passenger bi-motored transport that is a duplicate of the latest commercial ship.

Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., November 17, 1886, he is one of the small group of air force officers affiliated with army aviation virtually from its inception. He first flew in 1912.

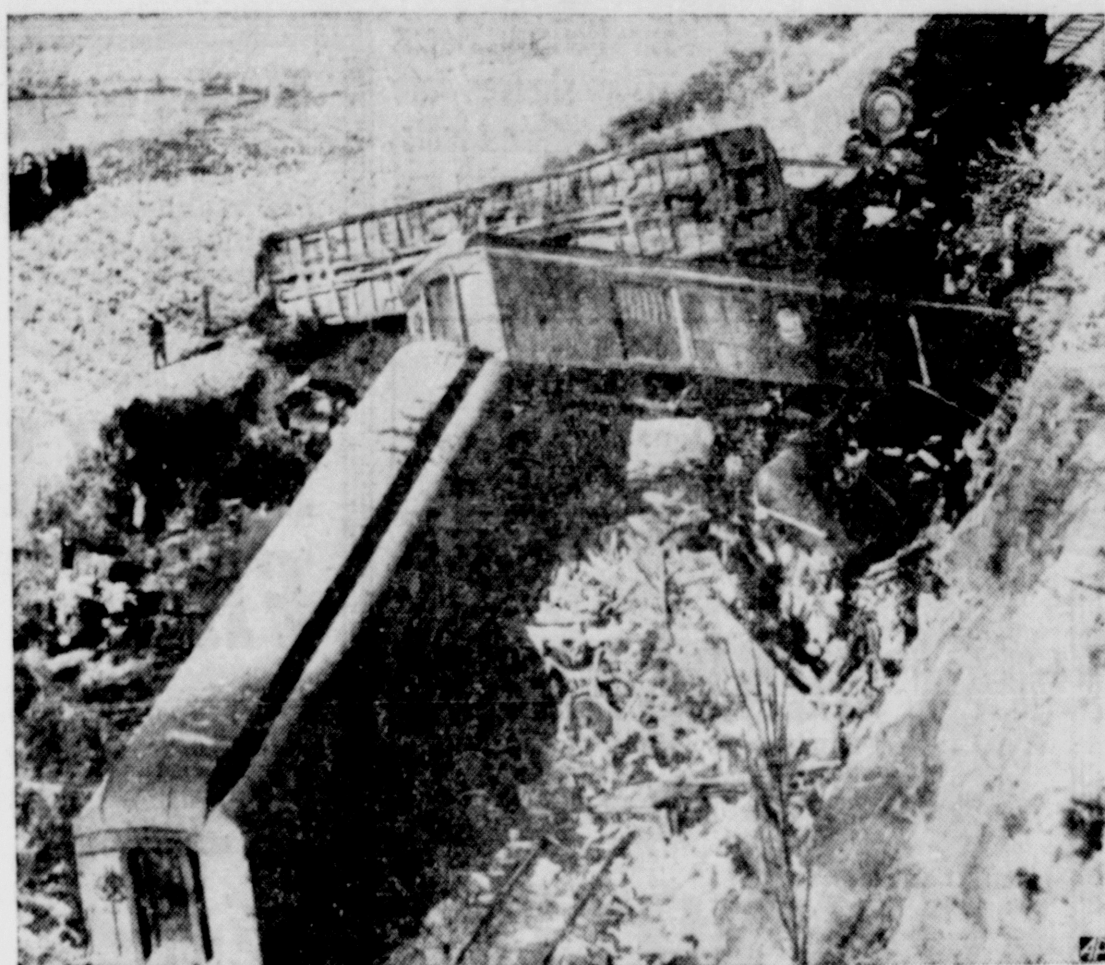

Graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1911, Dargue was commissioned in the coast artillery. Assigned to the Philippines, he served there a little more than a year and was assigned to the aviation section, signal corps.

"Possibly, some of the data being used now in repelling Japanese attacks on the Philippines was developed by General Dargue," the war department said in a statement announcing he was missing. General Dargue was the commander of the 1926-27 Pan American flight around South America. Members of the flight were awarded the Mackay trophy for the "most meritorious flight" in the army during the year.

Stanfield is 44, his son 20. Montgomerys are 40 and 18, respectively. The navy also announced that all naval recruiting stations in the country will be closed from 4 p. m. December 24 until 8 a. m. December 26.

ports, necessitated an 80 per cent reduction in crude rubber processing and curtailment of civilian consumption from 47,000 tons monthly to 10,000 tons.

Every new passenger car made will get four tires, but will have no spare or one made of reclaimed rubber, Henderson told a press conference yesterday. Manufacture of new passenger tires will be eliminated almost entirely for the present.

Tire sales will be restricted to firms or persons who have been granted certificates by the ration boards showing that the equipment is essential to maintenance of industrial efficiency or civilian health, he said, and to military use.

Exact definitions of persons eligible to receive ration cards have not been worked out, officials said, but they will be divided into three broad groups: Those with vehicles used for maintenance of public health and safety; those with passenger carriers other than private cars, and a few truck operators classed as essential.

Tire producers will be assigned quotas monthly by the Office of Production Management, and sales quotas will be fixed for each state and county on the basis of the number of commercial vehicles in the area. Price ceilings will be fixed before the effective date. Until then no sales are permitted.

Use of rubber in thousands of non-essential items—toys, rubber balls and bathing suits among them—probably will be halted entirely. The other principal import from the Orient, tin, was subjected to an O.P.M. "freezing order" yesterday. The government took control over all tin supplies in this country and en route here, and forbade sale or delivery of the metal except upon specific permission of Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson.

Christmas Carol Program Not to Be Given by K.H.S.

For some time arrangements have been completed whereby a Christmas carol broadcast would be held by Kingston High School over Station WKNY Friday morning, December 19, at 11 o'clock.

It was learned today that the local station would be unable to make the necessary connections with the high school auditorium because of the emergency which has developed due to the war situation and its effect on the communication field.

Upon learning this efforts were made to secure the municipal auditorium but this did not prove practical because of the fact that the activities of the Mayor's Christmas Cheer Committee already had taken possession of the auditorium.

It therefore has been found necessary to abandon plans for the broadcast by the high school.

President Cites Son of C. P. Kelly For West Point

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—In an unusual token of appreciation of a deed of heroism, President Roosevelt has addressed a letter to the President of the United States—whoever he may be—in 1956 requesting the appointment as a West Point cadet of Colin P. Kelly, III.

Now less than two years old, Colin P. Kelly, III, is the son of 26-year-old Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr., who scored three bomb hits and sunk the Japanese battleship Haruna off Luzon December 9.

Captain Kelly, of Madison, Fla., lost his life in the action which destroyed the first Japanese warship in the war which began December 7 with the Japanese surprise attack on Pearl Harbor. The President's letter, written on White House stationery and dated yesterday, follows: "To the President of the United States in 1956: "I am writing this letter as an act of faith in the destiny of our country. I desire to make a request which I make in full confidence that we shall achieve a glorious victory in the war we now are waging to preserve our democratic way of life. "My request is that you consider the merits of a young American youth of goodly heritage—Colin P. Kelly, III, for appointment as a cadet in the United States Military Academy at West Point. I make this appeal in behalf of this youth as a token of the nation's appreciation of the heroic services of his father who met death in line of duty at the very outset of the struggle which was thrust upon us by the perfidy of a professed friend. "In the conviction that the service and example of Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr., will be long remembered, I ask for this consideration in behalf of Colin P. Kelly, III."

Kavanaugh's Case Adjourned; Bail Fixed in Court

Robert V. Kavanaugh, 26, of Vincent street, Lincoln Park, charged with being a hit and run driver, had his case adjourned one week when he was arraigned before Judge Raymond Mino in Police court this morning. Bail was fixed at $500 by the court.

The adjournment was taken to await the outcome of the injuries suffered by George H. Kline, 57, of 94 Greenkill avenue, whose condition was said to be serious at the Kingston Hospital where he was taken after being struck and knocked down by an automobile on Greenkill avenue on Friday evening, December 12.

Kavanaugh was arrested by Officers Soper and Bowers on Wednesday afternoon after the police department had made a thorough investigation of the affair. The only clue that the police had to work with was a broken headlight from the automobile that struck Kline.

The police, after considerable work, ascertained that the broken headlight came from a 1932 Plymouth car, and a check was made on the owners of cars of that year's make. As the result of the work done by the department the arrest of Kavanaugh followed.

According to the police, Kavanaugh at the time he was arrested yesterday, made a statement that it was his car that had struck a man on Greenkill avenue.

'At 9 Tomorrow Morning'

The hospital doctor came to my bed and said: "Your blood test is perfect so we shall operate at nine tomorrow morning."

The information didn't frighten me. The things I had lived for and had enjoyed were gone. Six weeks before my cherished wife had quietly and quickly passed on. Depression had damaged us dreadfully. The love that passed had left me sick and alone. So I wasn't much concerned about the results of "at nine tomorrow morning." There wasn't much left to stay on for, so why worry.

I awoke after the operation listening to congratulations on my prompt return to consciousness and the "splendid results" of the operation. My feelings were a mixture of indifference and uncertainty. I was calmly thinking it over. I had lived a large number of years and nothing had ever happened to me in the way of hospitalization. Yet the vague uncertainty of operations did not terrify me, for I felt there was nothing left to stay on for, so why worry.

Then came just another day after day for nearly three weeks when another blood test told the doctor I could be ready "at nine tomorrow morning" for another operation. So I was duly prepared and regularly received under the Klieg lights for the second time. The doctors were there and waiting. Perhaps I showed signs of fever. But society said I had no right to oppose. Such things were in regular order and it was up to me to go on with it. My advanced age didn't seem to bother any one—myself least of all. Again I felt there was nothing left to stay on for, so why worry.

During the following weeks I received the careful care and skillful treatment from a group of genial, cordial nurses who hovered about my bed at all hours of the day and night. I seemed to have become a fixture.

They commenced to call me "pop," "dad" and other pleasingly endearing terms as though they liked to be all the time doing something for me. They even daintily called me their "prized patient." Curiously the word got about that I was a "good patient," and many came to see me. The dietician, too, came often to see me. She said I could have anything I wanted to eat, and she saw to it that I received it. So the days passed routinely. Reading matter was regularly put in my room. At the end of a few weeks I was again ready for another visit with the surgeons. After a few moments of gloom, I said again, well, there isn't much left to stay on for, so why worry.

Then I looked about my room. I saw hundreds of letters, telegrams, flowers, cigars, candy. I remembered the visits of groups of real friends. I recalled the daily visits of convalescent patients in the hospital, and I began to wonder if there wasn't really something to stay on for. I wondered if that invisible "something" that guides our footsteps hadn't taken away the scare of every scar. I wondered if my soothing

Rotary President

A. P. MODJESKA

Augustus P. Modjeska, newly elected president of Kingston Rotary Club, was handed the gavel Wednesday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the service club. Albert Kurdt, retiring president, was presented with a past president pin. B. C. Van Ingen made the presentation.

Announcement was made that next week's meeting will be held on Tuesday. This will be a joint luncheon-meeting with Kiwanis and Lions Club. President Modjeska asked for one hundred percent attendance on this occasion.

Through the courtesy of Eugene Pemberton, program chairman, an interesting movie on the petroleum industry was enjoyed.

Announcement was made that Station WKNY would broadcast the Rotary International series, "The Americas Speak." These programs, hailed as one of radio's most outstanding contributions to Pan American good will and friendship, will be broadcast each Sunday afternoon from 3 to 3:30 o'clock beginning January 4 and continuing through May 3.

Slumber wasn't evidence of a hidden power that lulled me to rest and sleep that I might fear no danger.

Eventually I left the hospital. Welcome, glorious health has returned. I returned to the life that still had so much for me to do. My part-time work as hospital representative for two—some times three—organizations calls me frequently to the hospital. There many, like myself, have grown tired, weary and discouraged and I want to believe there is a real impressive meaning to my words when I tell them "there is still something grand to stay on for."

Soil-Cement Streets

...new engineering development assures better, more economical light-traffic streets for your community

This new kind of street is called Soil-Cement... based on the discovery that when you mix cement carefully with roadway soil, and compact it, you have a strong, durable pavement for light traffic.

The method, though scientific, requires only simple, inexpensive equipment. Laboratory tests determine the exact proportion of materials needed—usually about 10% of cement to 90% of soil.

Soil-Cement Proved in Service
Hundreds of miles of Soil-Cement roads and streets now in use have proved its durability.

Soil-Cement is not intended for arterial or heavy-duty streets. For long life and economy such streets require the superior load-carrying capacity of portland cement concrete.

Soil-Cement DOES offer new economy for residential and other neighborhood light-traffic streets. Urge your officials to investigate Soil-Cement.

St. James Ladies' Aid

Hold Christmas Party

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. James Methodist Church enjoyed its Christmas party yesterday afternoon at the church parlors. There were about 35 ladies in attendance. Gifts of candy, nuts, cookies, and other articles for the city home were brought to this meeting.

Mrs. Frederick Synder, president, gave a word of greeting to the group. The group turned the meeting over to Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm, who had charge of the program. The entire group sang Christmas carols accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Julius Gifford. Mrs. Maxwell Taylor read the Christmas story and a prayer poem. This was followed by two readings by Mrs. Thomas Reynolds. Miss Jesse Kaprellian sang, "Jesu Bambino," by Yon and "O, Holy Night," by Adam. She was accompanied by Miss Vivian Swart.

After the program more carols were sung and games played. Mrs. Charles Hogan represented Mrs. Santa Claus and the Merry Christmas Handshake game proved to be a favorite. The award for this was given to Mrs. J. D. Van Kleek.

The tea table was most appropriately decorated in evergreens and candles. Mrs. Snyder made arrangements for the tea and Mrs. Thomas Edmonston assisted by pouring.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "The Personality of a House," "The Book of Social Usage," etc.)

OBJECTS TO FIANCEE'S SITTING AT TABLE WITH KNEES CROSSED

A young woman asks me whether she is likely to be criticized for behaving improperly if she should happen to sit at a restaurant table with her knees crossed. It seems that he fiance is criticizing her for doing this and she thinks he is making a fuss about nothing. The point is that they have had a heated argument about this, and she asks me to express an opinion.

My first thought was how can he or anyone else possibly know whether her knees are crossed? On second thought it may be that they were sitting in a room with mirror walls and at a table without tablecloth hanging low around the sides. In this case, I can understand that he could have grounds for objecting.

If, let us say, the table is narrow and without a cloth—it would be possible for her knees to be plainly seen by others, but not by herself—and therefore quite possible for her to have no idea how high her skirt rides up. It is quite likely that he has been made conscious of unpleasant attention attracted to her by others who sat across the way. Or perhaps noticing the shocking appearance of the occasionally crossed knees of other women merely made him want to protect his fiancee from risk of making an equally unpleasant exhibition. This certainly would be an impulse natural to every decent man.

Should Girls Visit Boys?

Dear Mrs. Post: Please give me your ideas of young girls visiting in boy's homes before there is any engagement or even a serious thought of one. A few weeks ago my son asked me to invite a girl he met last summer, to visit us here during the holidays, and I have done so. She is coming for over the week-end following Christmas. But now I wonder, did I make a mistake. Both of my sisters think such visits come later on after the engagement—and not before one is even contemplated.

Answer: I am sorry to disagree with your sisters, but I think nothing could be more natural than to want to know your son's friends, girls and boys both. From my point of view, asking this girl for such a visit is an extremely wise impulse on your part.

The Housekeeper

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother died and my sisters and I are going to keep our jobs and get a housekeeper to look after things at home for us. There are four in our family—my brother and my father in addition to us. What I'd like to know is, can we expect a housekeeper to run everything and look after some of our clothes as well, the way mother used to do?

Answer: To find a substitute for your mother is not quite within the bounds of possibility, but merely from the working angle I should say that if your mother could do it, and seemingly have any left-over time, the right housekeeper can. Finding this right one will not be very easy—but it should be possible.

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "RESTAURANT AND THEATRE." Be sure to send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Mrs. Post, in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y. Leaflets cannot be mailed unless self-addressed envelopes bears correct amount of postage.

Demand Is Rejected

In the siege of Hongkong, Britain's No. 2 citadel in the Far East, defenders of the island city flatly rejected a second Japanese demand for surrender amid a hail of bombs and shells.

Domei, the Japanese news agency, said Japanese bombers sent military facilities in Hongkong afire this morning, and Japanese batteries on the Kowloon mainland, across a mile-wide channel, were reported heavily shelling the city of more than 1,000,000 population.

Chief hopes for Hongkong's survival in British hands were based on three possibilities: Broad anti-Axis successes in other Far Eastern fighting.

An early increase in anti-Japanese aerial and naval strength in the Far East.

Success of tenacious Chinese troops, attacking the Japanese rear and flank some 28 miles north of Hongkong.

A total of about 500 persons were believed to have perished in the shark-infested waters of Manila Bay Wednesday when the steamer Corregidor struck a mine.

Three hundred were rescued. The 1,881-ton Corregidor, first seaplane carrier in history and veteran of the World War battle of Junda, was carrying passengers to southern islands of the Philippines.

Neither the war nor the navy department undertook to pass judgment on the superseded officers. In expressing his gratitude and appreciation for the kindness of everyone during his illness he said, "It is written, 'love thy neighbor as thyself for the love of God' and that was surely shown toward me. My 'neighbors' gave me the things which are priceless. In return the best I can say is thanks and may God bless them all with long life, health and happiness. To Dr. William Bush, who has grown to a mighty oak, his assistants and the kind, exceptionally fine sisters and nurses under the direction of Sister Bernice, go my deepest gratitude and admiration. Their wonderful care and devotion brought me through a thousand to one chance. ## No Public Contracts

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Under new and sweeping powers, city hall threw off the shackles of red tape today and prepared to spend $1,000,000 for emergency civilian defense needs without public letting of contracts. Working with war-time speed, the board of estimate yesterday voted the large defense fund—in addition to an earlier $25,000 defense appropriation—and then cleared the way for making expenditures.

Maroon Plays Here Tonight; Recs Defeat Pittsfield, 47-37

High School Cagers Engage Port Jervis At City Auditorium

Odds Are on Local Team in First Home Game; Contest Is Slated for 8 P. M.

DUSO Basketball resumes tonight at the municipal auditorium when Kingston High School, making its first home appearance of the 1941-42 campaign, meets Coach Lou Horsman's Red and Black Raiders of Port Jervis. Game time is slated for 8 o'clock.

Thus far in the season the Maroon and White basketballs hold a slight edge, despite the fact that they have been beaten in their only game. Kingston lost to Middletown last week. Port Jervis has dropped contests to Newburgh and Monticello.

Although the odds favor Coach G. Warren Kias' quintet, the local shooters can not afford to take Port Jervis too lightly. Port displayed effectiveness against Newburgh and Monticello in both games. These two games are considered as possible championship caliber this year.

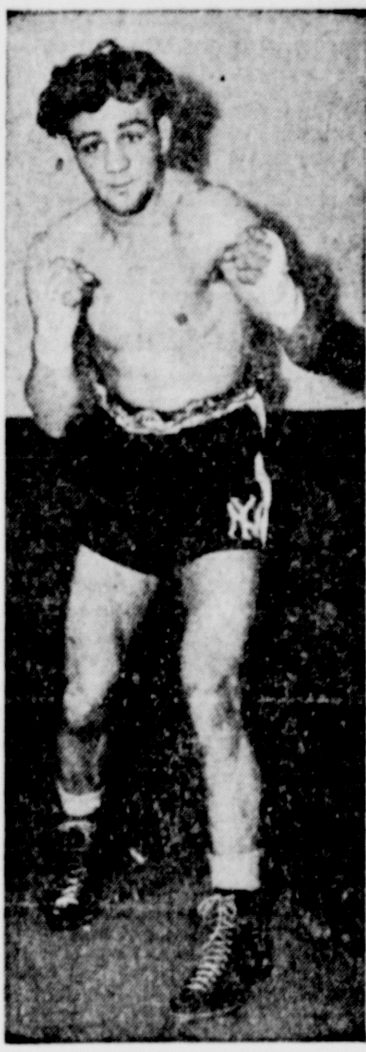

Kingston rosters hope to see Rod Sagendorf regain his 1940-41 shooting spurge which marked him as one of the best scorers in the loop.

Besides Sagendorf, the Kiasmen can count on Captain Ray Herrick for his usual quota. Ed Lucitke, a veteran guard with the Maroon is another steady player. He also gets his share of points.

Two other cagers who evidently will fit into the scheme of things are Storms and Zadany. Storms collected four points in the Middletown game last Friday night. In all probability, Coach Kias will have an occasion to call on them before the season is very old.

Port Is Mediocre
In a summary of the Port team, a sports writer of that town said, "the club has some speed, some accurate shots, some capable guards and some height. It does not have much of any of those

Fights Next Week

CARMEN FATTA

Tippy Larkin of Garfield, N. J., got a good start for a busy campaign by outpointing Tommy Spiegel last night. Larkin's next foe will be Carmen Fatta of New York at Laurel Garden, N. J., next Monday night. Fatta boxed in Kingston as an amateur, and was a popular favorite at the auditorium. At the end of his amateur career he did well as a pro fighter, only to drop out of the limelight when he joined the army. He plans a comeback and hopes to hit the top.

Factors which go to make up a championship outfit. Coach Horsman has a couple of potential aces in his line-up including the ever-present Ed Rutan of football, baseball and basketball game. Rutan has been a steady man for Port since he first started displaying his ability. Rutan will be at center.

The other members of the squad will be "Red" Kelly and Eli Cohen at forwards, Frank Adams and Paul Horsman at the guard slots. Cohen and Kelly are a nice passing combination who work best after the ball has been passed under the opponents hoop. Both have good eyes and they are fast.

Adams has been looked upon as slow but remedies this in his height. Frank sets most of the plays and so far has done most of the retrieving off enemy backboards. Coach Horsman also has Art Gray, Tom Viserata, Dinny Lapierre and Ed Burns in readiness.

At 7 o'clock tonight the K. H. S. Jayvees will play an exhibition game.

Desertions from ships visiting ports of South Africa have become so numerous that all immigrant quarters are overcrowded and many seamen must be kept in jails.

Fistfights Occur In Wild League Game Last Night

Benson, Krause Ejected by Referee Begovich; McGuirk Leads All in Scoring

With two fistfights highlighting last night's riotous New York State Pro Basketball League game at the municipal auditorium, the Kingston Recreations continued on their winning way by defeating Pittsfield, 47 to 37. The victory enabled the Recs to move into a tie with Troy for third place.

Al Benson, the former American League star with the Jersey Reds and Detroit Eagles, made his first appearance in a local uniform. He collected 10 points. It was he and big Ed "Moose" Krause who were ejected from the game after the two had come together in an old-fashioned flareup.

The Recreations gained some revenge for last week's 61-53 beating at the hands of the Bay Staters in winning last night's contest. Pittsfield tried to win the game the hard way with some close checking and as a result 20 fouls were called on Pittsfield by Matty Begovich. Kingston converted 15 and that was enough to trim the Panthers from Pittsfield.

Manager Jim McNally's up and coming club, which is beginning to look better every game, started from scratch and took a 12 to 7 lead in the first period. The work of Al Benson, Jerry Rizzo, Jim Buckley and Jack McGuirk, gave the Recs the steam in this session.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 18 (Wide World)—No matter how serious the situation looks, you can always count on sports to provide a laugh or two . . . for instance: With nothing going on hereabouts except bowl game preparations, the football season still is alive at Kodiak, Alaska, and in Newfoundland — where Minnesota's grid pictures have been sent — Detroit hockey fans still are talking about a couple of amateur players who penalized themselves the other day. After a slight set-to, they skated to the cooler without waiting for the referee's signal and it wasn't until he found them there that the official decided to call the penalties . . . Phil Zwick, the featherweight fighter, drew some gasps when he refused to sign to fight Chalky Wright at Milwaukee New Year's day because of criticism. "Phil does not want to force himself upon the public," his manager explained.

Today's Guest Star
Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Connie Mack has racked up 41 spring exhibition games for his A's, starting in Anaheim, Calif. They can't scare that man away from the West coast—in fact, if there was any scare in him, the Yanks would have shooed him out of the American League long ago."

Service Dept.
Current issue of the "Amateur Athlete," A. A. U. publication, adds these names to the list of A. A. U. and intercollegiate champions in service: Privates Frank Derrah, Dick Ganslen, Jim Kehoe, Otto Kotraba, Andy Neidinger and Johnny Quigley, Corporal Chuck Fenske, Lieutenants John Lyman, George Varoff and John Woodruff, Flying Cadets Harry March and Frank Slater and Boatwain's Mate Don Vosberg of the track and field force and Chief Boatwain's Mate Tom McDermott and Flying Cadet Jim Reilly, swimmers. They tell this one on Private Sylvio Couci of the 112th Field Artillery, the ex-jockey. He was riding a double-beamed horse pulling a field piece during the Carolina maneuvers when he was recognized by Dr. J. G. Catlett, Florida state racing commission vet. "Private, that horse is somewhat different from the kind you rode a few years ago," Catlett said. Couci didn't crack a smile as he saluted. "Yes sir," he replied, "shall I lead him to the saliva box?"

Pop Pops Off
"Now that the football season is over and the coaches have really begun scouting, the circus folks have put a 24-hour guard on gargantuan's cage. They don't think he could pass the entrance exams but there's no use in taking chances."

Hugh Fullerton, Senior Sportspourri

New York's public schools athletic league has formulated air raid rules for the basketball season. If a warning sounds in the first half it's "no coast," in the second half it's a legal game. What, no siren checks? . . . The McGuffey High School football team of Oxford, O., gave Coach W. C. "Weeb" Ewbank a $25 defense bond at the recent annual banquet. The boys thought up the idea and bought it with their own money. . . . Pitcher Junior Thompson of the Cincy Reds still is trying to find the cure for his sore arm, on which doctors have been working for two months. . . . They're not all wolves: Boston

The Firemen will be at full strength with Knight, Charlie Neff, Schoonmaker, Fullford, Dunn, Wood, La Polt and Carozza. Ellenville have Distel, Nail, Cornfort, Van Keuren, Rowan and Silverman. Ellenville's team has a number of ex-DUSO League basketball stars in its lineup. The Presentations will be ready to go with Woods, Sass, Dempsey, Cannon, Reynolds, Miller, Barton and Mower.

Connie Mack Warn Baseball Players

Tells Athletes to Stop Salary Arguments

Philadelphia, Dec. 18 (AP)—Major league baseball players had best be prepared to "sign up and shut up" when next season's contracts arrive, Connie Mack predicted today.

For with the war creating an uncertain future for professional sports, the venerable manager of the Athletics feels that club owners will refuse to gamble with player contracts calling for astronomical salaries.

But Mack expressed the opinion that bonus clauses could be written in to provide for additional player compensation if club receipts hold up.

Meet General Tinker: He Is An Osage on New Warpath

Pawhuska, Okla., Dec. 18 (AP)—A soldier of Osage Indian descent is on the warpath against the Japanese as the new chief of Uncle Sam's Hawaiian air forces.

Brig. Gen. Clarence L. Tinker, newly named to the command of the army's air forces in Hawaii, is the son of the publisher of Pawhuska's first newspaper. He was born in the Osage nation near the Kansas line November 21, 1887.

His father, Ed Tinker, who started the Wakshashe News in this Osage capital many years before Oklahoma became a state, recalls how young Clarence used to "toddle around under my feet" as he was setting type.

Clarence got his early education at a country school near Sedan, Kas., and an Osage boarding school here. His father, once a member of the Osage Council, taught him the tribal tongue.

"When he was a little boy, we talked often in the Osage language," the elder Tinker said, "and he still speaks it fluently."

"The last time I saw him—it was in Denver not long ago—I talked to him in Osage and he replied the same way. He hasn't forgotten a bit of it."

Informed of his son's promotion, the aged heavily-bearded Tinker said in a choked voice: "I'm awful proud of him. I know he'll get the job done."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Scattered stocks negotiated timid recoveries in today's market but neither war nor business news seemed good enough to touch off any real buying demand.

Steels did fairly well for a time, then backed away. A few rails and coppers clung to small advances but losses of fractions to 4 or more points were well in the majority near the final hour. Frequent lively intervals put transfers at the rate of about 1,300,000 shares.

Much of the day's volume again was due to liquidation of sizable blocks for income tax purposes. As in the previous session, hopeful battle bullets from Africa and Russia were more than offset by fears for Hongkong, and Singapore in the Japanese Far Eastern thrust. The apparent successful defense of the Philippines was a cheerful straw. Widening of federal controls over industry still was a market handicap, brokers said.

Bonds and commodities shifted over narrow trails. Stocks in new ground for 1941 included American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck and American Can.

Accorded occasional support were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Southern Railway, Santa Fe, Boeing, Kennecott, American Smelting and Union Carbide.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city, branch office, 48 Main street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

Golf, Tennis Sales Boom

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Spurred by the fear the war might put a crimp in their pastime, golfers and tennis players swarmed into New York's big department stores today to lay in a supply of golf and tennis balls for the duration. As soon as the stores opened their doors today—following Price Administrator Leon Henderson's statement last night that production of such non-essential rubber items as golf balls might be eliminated during the war—the rush started.

Lehman Expects Loss

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 18 (AP)—Rationing of rubber effective January 4 "will affect state revenues tremendously," Governor Lehman said today. The executive explained the greatest loss to the state would be in returns from the state gasoline tax which last year exacted about $65,000,000. Meantime, Lehman advised local defense councils to "make immediate preparations to set up necessary organizations" to counter the rationing.

Is Promoted

ARTHUR KUBICEK

Arthur Kubicek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kubicek, of this city, has been promoted to "Fourth Class Specialist" at the Bangor Air Base at Bangor, Me., where he is stationed.

B. Morton Havey, managing editor of the Bangor Daily Freeman, in a letter to The Freeman paid a high tribute to young Kubicek. Mr. Havey wrote: "We 'drew' this boy for Thanksgiving dinner at our home. I think your town may well feel proud of him, judging from his every outward manner, conversation and general appearance."

Bandits Now More Polite;

It may be scant consolation if your wallet was just lifted by a guy with a mask and a gun, but the fact seems to be that the bandit fraternity is getting a sudden rush of politeness to the head.

A bank robber in Tolono, Ill., locking up four employees and making off with $1,000, apologized that "he hated to cause this inconvenience."

A Baltimore bandit, snatching a girl's purse, murmured softly, "I'm very sorry." And four restaurant robbers in Chicago passed out chewing gum to their victims—to calm their nerves.

When a St. Paul holdup man's victim dropped four packages in her fright, the brigand muttered "I'm sorry," and picked up the packages before continuing with his work. When a barmaid fainted during a Chicago tavern holdup, the gunmen stopped, revived her with a glass of water, and got her a chair.

A bandit in Hollywood addressed a filling station proprietor: "If you will be so good, sir, as to fill that sack—with money, I mean, and be brisk if you please." And a New York burglar before rifling a cash register, meticulously rang up "no sale."

But, of course, someone always has to go and spoil the record. A Memphis holdup man, collecting only 13 cents from a motorist, editorialized disagreeably: "People with only 13 cents shouldn't have an auto."

Blind Man Is Skilled

Trainer of Guide Dogs

One of the most skilled trainers of "seeing-eye" dogs for the blind is Otis Gathright of Los Angeles, who is blind himself.

Gathright uses a special technique and trains a dog in about four months. He has trained 10, and now is at work on Prince, a tawny German shepherd which he rescued from the pound as a pup.

"Prince first had to learn that I was blind," said the trainer. "I would step on him purposely and then have someone else avoid him as he lay down. Thus he soon caught on to my condition."

"I use a close chain, with which to teach Prince to stay on my left side. Thus I can carry my white cane in my right hand and hold the dog with my left."

Pride spurs the dog to learn his job. The dog learned that his life work is to look after the blind master. Only about one in 50 German shepherds is fitted for the task.

"Prince already can guide me around with only elementary training," he said. "He stops at all intersections—which is something many automobile drivers can't seem to do. When we cross a street he hurries me along to get out of the way of cars."

Gathright said it "takes a lot of courage" for a blind person to go out upon a city street at first. But with a white cane and a "seeing-eye" dog the hazards vanish and the blind acquire an amazing self-confidence.

Human Experiment

The 30-year-old son of a Canadian physician has offered to become a "guinea pig" for medical science in an effort to develop a cure for a rare form of infantile paralysis closely resembling that which claimed the life of Lou Gehrig, noted baseball star.

The offer was made by Herbert G. Chatham, whose father has consulted medical authorities throughout the world in an effort to find a cure for the youth. He was stricken three years ago and has been confined to his bed since last January. The disease causes muscular atrophy.

Prenatal Clinic

The prenatal clinic will be held at the Benedictine Hospital on Friday afternoon, December 19, from 1 to 2 o'clock. Expectant mothers who attend this clinic will receive medical attention and advice.

When Tonsils Shouldn't Come Out, Doctor Advises

Don't have your youngster's tonsils taken out when there is infantile paralysis around—he's two to four times as likely to catch it after a recent tonsillectomy, according to a warning issued by the medical department of a well-known life insurance company.

Records of many hundreds of cases of "polio" treated in hospitals in city centers show a much higher frequency of the "bulbar," or deadlier form of polio, and a much higher fatality rate, among patients who had had their tonsils removed, the report points out.

The open season for infantile paralysis outbreaks extends from June to November, with the peak number of cases usually reached in August. Having the children's tonsils out is risky if there are any cases of polio in the vicinity, the report suggests, and in such circumstances the operation should be postponed, unless the tonsils are so diseased or otherwise abnormal that the need for immediate removal is urgent.

In general, such comparative records as are available indicate a higher susceptibility to infantile paralysis among children without their tonsils, than among those with tonsils intact, the report states, which suggests that the tonsils have a definite protective function, and should only be removed if a menace to health.

Children two years old are the age group most frequently stricken by infantile paralysis, the report states. Susceptibility to "polio" infection drops off sharply above four years of age. However, some adults are stricken in every epidemic.

Modern methods of treatment, including hydrotherapy and massage, are getting complete cures in numerous cases, and a steady advance in understanding of this disease suggests that it may soon be brought under control.

Coarse Brown Bread Is

Source of 'B' Vitamin

A necessary vitamin is B—a group of at least half a dozen different chemicals.

Vitamin B is found abundantly in whole wheat and coarse grains, is appreciably reduced in the milling process, when the rough coat is "scalped" from wheat kernel. Most of the big flour mills and bakers have recently agreed to put vitamin B<sub>1</sub>, nicotinic acid and iron back into their flour and bread. But experts pointed out that such "enriched bread," although a step forward, was not the ideal solution of the problem.

Reasons: (1) sufficient productive capacity for riboflavin, which may be a required ingredient of the new flour, will not be ready for almost a year; (2) enriched flour is not as rich in minerals and vitamins as whole grain; (3) to keep up his vitamin B requirement from this source alone, a person would have to eat almost a whole loaf of enriched bread every day (of the non-enriched white bread, he would have to eat three to four loaves); (4) the amount of vitamins available to put into bread may just now be seriously curtailed by shipments to Britain; (5) natural flour goes a third of a way longer in breadmaking than refined flour.

Coarse brown bread is still the best source of vitamin B<sub>1</sub>.

India's banking system is reported not to have been affected by the war.

Boy Scouts in England are volunteering to weed wheat fields.

On Furlough

CHARLES J. SACCOMAN

Charles J. Saccoman, former clerk of the Children's Court under Judge Andrew J. Cook, who volunteered for service in the army last April, is spending a 10-day furlough at his home. Upon his induction, he was stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., and upon completion of maneuvers recently held in that section, he was assigned to the adjutant general's office at Governors Island. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Saccoman.

Buffalo Gets Ready

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 18 (AP)—New York's second largest city was on a virtual emergency air-raid preparedness basis today as the Buffalo defense council established 10 casualty posts and 50 first aid stations. City authorities said 6,000 air-raid and 800 fire wardens would be on duty for the first trial blackout December 26. Plans for extending the test to the entire Niagara frontier along both the Canadian and American borders still hinge on consent from the Ontario provincial attorney general. Seven defense councils in Erie and Niagara counties outside Buffalo have agreed to participate.

Washington Headquarters

Milk Hearing Soon

Salvation Army Seeks Christmas Fund Support

It was announced this morning that the Salvation Army needs support in order to carry out the usual plans for the Christmas parties at the North Front street hall and in Rondout. It was said that the funds have been falling behind. More funds are needed to buy the candy, fruit and toys for the children at these parties. The help of all is requested.

Special Program

The Sunday school will have a special Christmas program Sunday morning at the Fountout Presbyterian Church at 9:45 o'clock, after which the several classes will march into the church auditorium for the worship service. This will begin promptly at 10:45 o'clock. The quartet will be assisted by an additional chorus in the presentation of the Christmas cantata, "The Story of Bethlehem," by William R. Spence. There will be no mid-week service.

Novel Decorations

A little ingenuity, a few cents worth of pop corn, and a wee bit of your time will yield something different in Christmas decorations and confectious. Heaped popped corn creates striking snow effects. It's grand for snow-white strings for trees and wall or window drapes. Glued to paper shells, or built in layers, it can be shaped to your heart's content. And when it comes to making Christmas goodies, there's a list a mile long of dainty delicacies.

Join the Red Cross

A substantial contribution toward the $15,000 American Red Cross War Fund to be raised by the Ulster County Committee will help keep the fighting men, healthy, happy and efficient.
